Wilmington Lashes Circleville, 26-6

By PAUL SMALLWOOD
Herald Staff Writer

After battling host team Wilmington to a 6-6 first half deadlock, Circleville High's grid fortunes took a turn for the worse as the Hurricanes came back to post a 26-6 victory in the final two stanzas.

The Tigers started strong, ringing up their only touchdown the first time they got their hands on the ball. However, several bad breaks and numerous costly penalties plagued the CHS gridgers for the remainder of the game.

One of the bad breaks came early in the second quarter when quarterback Mike Hosler was forced from the game with a painful shoulder injury which required him to sit out the rest of the contest.

The loss of the sparkplug QB proved to be a critical one. Second string signal caller Tom Greeno didn't even dress for the game due to a knee injury. Sophomore Dave Smith took over at this point and did an admirable job despite the fact it was his first varsity appearance under fire.

CIRCLEVILLE scored on just 11 plays after taking the opening kickoff. Moving 81 yards, the drive was sparked by Walt Arledge who spurred through tackle and traveled 45 yards to the Wilmington 28 before he was hauled down from behind. Hosler, Dick Bircher and Ray Phifer moved the ball down to the three-yard stripe where fullback Larry Hannahs went on over. Hosler then hit Jon Parcher with a perfect pass for extra point but the play was called back when officials signaled a holding penalty against the Tigers. Moved back 15 yards, Hosler's placekick attempt was blocked.

The entire game was marred with penalties. Circleville was penalized six times for 80 yards and Wilmington eight times for 90 yards.

Wilmington scored once in the first quarter, once in the third and twice in the fourth.

After the Tigers had gone out in front, 6-0, the Hurricanes took the ensuing kickoff and marched 55 yards in nine plays to deadlock things at 6-6. The drive was helped when Circleville was charged with defensive illegal use of hands, giving Wilmington a free 15 yards and putting the ball on the Circleville seven yard line.

Hurricane quarterback Howard Barns raced to pay dirt on a bootleg on the next play. Roger Reed's kick for point after was no good and the scoreboard showed, 6-6.

NEITHER team fashioned a serious threat for the remainder of the half. The most serious damage in the second frame was Hosler's shoulder injury. He crashed head-on with Barns who was lugging the mail for Wilmington.

Wilmington roared back with determination in the third quarter, taking Asa Elsea's kickoff and marching 65 yards to go out in front to stay. Right half Mickey Vanscoy and left half Sonnie Fields teamed up for most of the Hurricane yardage, with Vanscoy taking the pigskin over from one yard out.

This time Reedy's kick for extra point was good and the host squad led, 13-6.

WHS set up its third touchdown when tackle Cliff Downey crashed through to block Elsea's fourth down punt attempt on Circleville's 28-yard line. Fullback Norman Wiget and Vanscoy carried the pigskin to the Tigers' three where Fields smashed through for a touchdown. Reedy's kick for point was no good and the score read Wilmington 19, Circleville 6.

Taking the kickoff Circleville tried desperately to get a drive underway but the thrust fizzled when the local gridgers lost the ball on downs on Wilmington's 48.

After forcing Wilmington to punt on the next series of downs, the Tigers again lost the ball when the Hurricanes' Mark Smith intercepted a Walt Arledge pass intended for Jon Parcher. Smith returned the ball to Circleville's eight-yard line.

WILMINGTON then was penalized 15 yards for holding but a few plays later the Tigers again were charged with the unusual penalty of defensive holding, giving the Hurricanes the ball on the three-yard stripe. Fields raced into the end zone on the next play. Reedy's successful kick then gave Wilmington a 26-6 advantage.

Circleville took the following kickoff and moved to Wilmington's 20-yard line as the final gun sounded. Most of the yardage in this drive was gained on passes from Smith to ends Bill Johnson and Parcher, plus two nice runs by Hannahs.

After the game Coach Tom Bennett remarked that he was not discouraged with the Tigers' showing. "If Hosler hadn't been injured and if we could have gotten a few breaks the outcome might have been different," he said.

Coach Bennett was especially pleased with the determined style of play turned in by several of his boys. Guard Asa Elsea was a standout on defense, doing just about everything that could be expected of a lineman.

The hard-hitting guard was all over the field and probably was in on at least 90 per cent of the tackles. Operating from a line backer position, Elsea sparkled in diagnosing Wilmington plays as he either plugged holes or smashed through to nab opposing runners.

Halfback Walt Arledge and fullback Larry Hannahs also did a good job on both offense and defense, with both making several nice runs.

Next week the Tigers travel to Hillsboro for another South Central Ohio League contest.

Here are the lineups:

Turkey Tells of Concern For Her Border with Syria

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (U.P.) — Voicing concern over the buildup of Communist-supplied arms in Syria, Turkey told the United Nations Friday night she is duty bound to protect the security of her southern flank.

Turkish Ambassador Seyfullah Esin told the 82-nation General Assembly his government considers Syrian independence vital to Turkey's safety.

"That is the reason why the recent events in that country are being followed by my government with attention and concern from the viewpoint of our own security," Esin said.

He accused the Soviet Union of waging a campaign of "false rumors" aimed at torpedoing Turkish-Syrian relations even as Communist arms were being sent to Syria.

Russia recently accused Turkey of massing troops along Syria's border. The charge was leveled after Turkey had conducted troop maneuvers near her southern frontier.

BEFORE Esin spoke, Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister V. V. Kuznetsov told a news conference Russia had proposed to the United States, Britain and France that the Big Four refrain from shipping arms to the Middle East. Kuznetsov asserted that his suggestion went "unexamined."

The United States already has rejected Russian proposals for a "hands off" declaration on the Middle East.

Syria's Foreign Minister Salah

Bitar told a reporter that leaders of Jordan and Saudi Arabia have defended his government against charges that Syria was falling into the Communist orbit and represented a threat to her Arab neighbors.

Bitar predicted that other Arab states would take a similar line in their general policy speeches before the Assembly.

Egypt, viewed by some Western quarters as a partner in Syria's move to the left, is certain to defend her Arab neighbor's actions.

King Saud of Saudi Arabia flew home from Damascus Friday after expressing belief that Syria's deals with Moscow are no threat to her neighbors. Saud made a three-day visit to Damascus to confer with Syrian leaders amid reports that he was disturbed by the looming split in the Arab world over recent developments in Syria.

FBI Reports Ohio Thieves Hike Activity

WASHINGTON (U.P.) — Police in Ohio cities are reporting stepped up activities by thieves.

It may be a man who jabs a gun at his victim to get his money or a burglar or a car thief.

These are the crimes, the FBI says in a new report based on material from police around the country, that show particular increases in Ohio.

As an example, the number of robberies per 100,000 inhabitants in Ohio during the first six months of 1956 was 23.2. For the first half of this year that figure is 27.2.

Similarly, burglary went from 162.5 to 173.1, larceny went from 549.6 to 573.8, and auto theft climbed from 87.1 to 94.7—all figures again being the number of offenses per 100,000.

In general, the report shows that crime in Ohio is soaring to new highs in every category except murder and assault.

However, murders in Ohio are continuing at the already alarmingly high rate of a little more than two offenses per 100,000 people. Assaults dropped from 24.6 to 18.2.

For the nation, the FBI report shows increases in every major crime category. The report states: "More major crimes occurred in the United States during the first half of 1957 than in any like period in the past. Police reports reflecting an 8.4 per cent increase brought the national total of major crimes to 1,399,670 at midyear."

The widow of the wartime President visited with Khrushchev for two hours and 45 minutes Friday at his summer home near the Black Sea city of Yalta.

She quoted Khrushchev as telling her: "War is unthinkable. We do not want war."

She described the Communist party boss as "a cordial, simple, outspoken man who got angry at certain spots and who emphasized the things he believed."

Community Fund Collections Total 17 Per Cent of Goal

Although most of the industrial, business and special groups Community Fund collections are about over, there are still a majority of reports to be made to Fund headquarters.

Mr. and Mrs. Karl Mason campaign co-chairmen, said today that most of the solicitors who have been working the last two weeks have not reported fully.

Total fund collections to date neared $5,000 yesterday when an additional $1,054.42 was reported. The total today stands at $4,976.60 or about 17 per cent of the $28,700 goal.

House-to-house solicitation was to get underway in both city and county Monday. Today was the deadline for business, industrial and special groups collections.

Five agencies are financed by the Community Fund campaign. They are the Salvation Army, Red Cross, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and Youth Canteen. Operation of these agencies for the ensuing year depends upon the outcome of the Community Fund drive.

Several of the volunteer workers who will begin collections Monday met in the home of Miss Alma Ehret and Mrs. Eleanor Dawson 226 Walnut St.

They heard L. D. Varble explain the Community Fund and how to make solicitations. At the meeting were Mrs. Edwin Pritchard, Mrs. Lyman England, Mrs. Howard Clark, Mrs. John Kushner, Mrs. Paul E. Smith, Mrs. Lee Smith, Mrs. Ray McNeal, Mrs. Wilson Woods, Mrs. Matilda Mellon, Mrs. Olen Black, Mrs. Charles Flaker, Mrs. Arthur Cupp and Mrs. Harriet Kaylor.

Solons Continuing Probe of Hoffa

WASHINGTON (U.P.) — The Senate Rackets Committee sought new information today about James R. Hoffa's dealings with underworld figures and about his role in selling Florida real estate to Teamsters Union members.

The committee arranged an unusual Saturday session in an effort to wind up its current series of hearings on Hoffa's affairs before the Teamsters Union opens its convention in Miami Beach on Monday.

Hoffa, Midwest boss of the Teamsters, is in Miami Beach campaigning for election as president of the giant truckers union. Hoffa is the front-running candidate for the $50,000-a-year post despite corruption charges against him by the Senate committee and by the AFL-CIO.

However U. S. District Judge F.

Dickinson Letts Friday granted a request by a group of New York Teamster members for a temporary injunction against holding the election at this time.

UNION LAWYERS planned to appeal the judge's action. The Teamster members who brought the court action charge the convention delegates were hand-picked to guarantee Hoffa's election.

The Rackets Committee, headed by Sen. McClellan (D-Ark), sought to compel the attendance of Henry Lower, Detroit real estate man, for questioning about money deals with Hoffa in promoting the Sun Valley real estate venture near Orlando, Fla., in 1955 and 1956.

Lower sent word he is too ill to testify. But committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy reported that "a government doctor" who examined Lower is convinced that Lower is well enough to testify. McClellan said he expected Lower to obey a subpoena.

McClellan also held under subpoena William Bufalino, one of Hoffa's top lieutenants in Detroit.

Bufalino faced possible further questioning about his charges Friday that committee investigator Arthur Kaplan tried "to get information at gun point" from Harry Newman, a business agent for Teamsters Local 985 in Detroit. Bufalino is president of that local.

Kennedy acknowledged that Kaplan drew a gun on Newman, but he said this happened after Newman started pushing Kaplan around. Kennedy described Newman as husky, Kaplan as a slightly built man. The committee counsel termed "a complete fabrication" Bufalino's version of the incident.

McClellan ordered a further inquiry into the matter, but he told Bufalino "the committee is not going to be intimidated."

In an appearance before the committee a month ago, Hoffa acknowledged associating with New York racketeers Johnny Dio and Anthony (Tony Ducks) Corallo. McClellan contends the two hoodlums helped Hoffa's rise to power in the union, and that in the process they exploited rank and file workers.

Election Delay Edict Due To Be Appealed

Dave Beck First Shuns Ruling, Then Says Union 'Definitely' Will Obey

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (U.P.) — Teamsters Union bosses, stunned by a federal court injunction forbidding officers elections at the union convention next week, said today they would obey it but hoped for a higher court reversal.

Retiring President Dave Beck, said Friday afternoon that with or without the ban on delegates choosing new officers, the giant truck union's convention would go ahead as scheduled.

Friday night, however, Beck said "we very definitely will not run in contradiction to any court order. We positively will follow and live up to any court order. We will not defy the edict of any court. The only thing we will do is appeal."

Other Teamsters leaders said there wasn't much use holding sessions without powers to name officers, since that is the main business before the scandal-scared union.

The court ban against union elections next week was ordered in Washington by Federal District Judge F. Dickinson Letts in a Teamsters' members suit. They claimed delegates had been chosen illegally and hand-picked to insure election of Midwest Teamsters chief James R. Hoffa as Beck's successor.

Faubus Hinting Special Session Of Legislature

State Assembly Could Abolish Public School Setup in Racial Fuss

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (U.P.) — The summoning of an emergency session of the Arkansas Legislature in connection with the Little Rock integration crisis appeared possible today in the light of Gov. Orval Faubus' latest statements.

Faubus definitely opened the prospect of an emergency legislative session Friday night by saying he may call the lawmakers within 10 days.

The governor had said earlier that many legislators "pressured" him to call them to Little Rock so they could fight back against the federal government's forcible integration measures. Faubus also said that some legislators even offered to serve without pay.

Meanwhile, the Army posted a small number of troops at Central High for the weekend—mainly, it said, to guard the building.

Nine Negro students completed their third full day of integrated classes Friday and left under guard as usual when school was dismissed for the weekend.

The main reason is a drop in the sale of their two principal crops—wheat and corn. The price of both grains, on the average, has held fairly steady in Ohio.

So the decline in income (there was a $20 million drop in crop receipts for the first seven months of 1957 compared with the like period last year) is attributed to falling production.

This is particularly evident in the case of wheat, even though, as a source of cash, wheat is much less important than corn.

Ohio farmers have planted about the same acreage of wheat for the last three years—around 1½ million acres.

But the big difference is not in what was planted, but in what was harvested. The yield has been dropping.

THE AVERAGE yield of wheat in Ohio was an excellent 29 bushels an acre in 1955. The next year,

1957 Ohio Farmer Income To Be Less Than Last Year

WASHINGTON (U.P.) — Agriculture Department figures indicate Ohio farmers probably will make a little less money this year than they did in 1956.

The main reason is a drop in the sale of their two principal crops—wheat and corn. The price of both grains, on the average, has held fairly steady in Ohio.

Hoffa Critic Says He Gets Cuffing

JOPLIN, Mo. (U.P.) — Amos Reniker, Joplin Teamsters Union official, says four other Teamsters cuffed him around and warned him to stop talking against James R. Hoffa and Floyd Webb.

Hoffa is Midwest vice president of the Teamsters and a leading candidate to succeed Dave Beck as president of the international union. Webb is business agent for Local 823 here.

Reniker, 44, leader of a faction that has been trying to oust Webb, said Friday night the attack was made Wednesday at his place of employment. He said he wasn't hurt but his assailants promised he would be "really beat up if I didn't shut up."

State Seeks Vaccine

COLUMBUS (U.P.) — The Ohio Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction Friday began a check of drug houses in an effort to get 15,000 shots of Asian flu vaccine to inoculate employees.

Judge Letts said Friday he would not set a special date for a hearing on whether to make the injunction permanent. He said he would let this come up in the normal course on the court calendar. Lawyers said that could mean the hearing would be months distant.

Letts' order does not include a feature asked by the plaintiffs—that he appoint a referee to oversee the holding of a fair election.

Lawyers for the complaining members said they would seek that as part of a permanent injunction.

HOFFA, although opposed by three rivals for Beck's post, continued to be the apparent front runner for the $50,000 a year union job.

Thomas J. Haggerty, an official of a Chicago Teamsters local and a rival candidate against Hoffa, arrived here Friday and predicted he will beat Hoffa.

Eisenhower Nears End of Vacation

NEWPORT, R. I. (U.P.) — President Eisenhower hoped today for a day of complete vacation.

He hasn't had one free of work since he came to Newport Sept. 4, and aides said this is the first day that has offered a good chance.

The word at the temporary White House is that the President and Mrs. Eisenhower may return to Washington early next week.

The President has arranged a Washington conference Tuesday with a committee of five Southern governors who want to discuss Eisenhower's edict which put federal troops in Little Rock, Ark., to enforce school integration.

Chain Reaction Nets Three Burglary Suspects

Three Columbus youths picked up here early Thursday morning are being held in the local jail for investigation of a burglary in McArthur, Vinton County.

The accused are Raymond E. Spires, 20, Thomas J. Shortt, 18, and Adam Kimsey, 18. The three are being held in the Pickaway County jail awaiting release to McArthur lawmen.

The three were apprehended here following an unusual chain reaction of circumstances. They first were stopped for speeding by State Highway Patrolman James Cooper.

Kimsey was held by Patrolman Cooper while Shortt and Spires went on to Columbus on a pretext of obtaining money for Kimsey's release.

However it later was learned that the two youths stopped at several business establishments north of here to get bills for small change which apparently was taken in the McArthur burglary.

ONE OF the businessmen became suspicious and informed the local sheriff's department telling them that the youths' car was headed south toward Circleville.

Deputy Sheriff Charles Felkey and police Sgt. Leroy Hawks set up road blocks on the new bypass and on the old section of Route 23. Hawks spotted the car coming south on Court St. Felkey and Hawks managed to stop the car between Main and Watt Sts.

A search of the car and two occupants revealed a large amount of change, a screw driver, a pair of gloves and several telephone receivers.

Sticking with the investigation Deputy Felkey put the three suspects under an extensive questioning which lasted from 1 to 6:30 Friday morning. According to Felkey the three finally cracked, admitting that they were involved in a burglary at the Jarvis Night Club in McArthur.

According to Felkey the three allegedly entered the night spot early Monday morning, taking approximately $140 from a pinball machine, a cigarette dispenser and a shuffle board. They also admitted taking several bottles of alcohol.

Ashville Gets First Victory At McArthur

Bronco Comeback Good for 12-8 Football Triumph

Ashville's Broncos roared back from an early 8-0 deficit to down McArthur, 12-8 last night at McArthur.

Trailing 8-6 with about five minutes to go, the Broncos put on a spurt which carried them into the end zone to nail their first win in two starts. The winning tally came on a well-executed 25-yard pass play from quarterback Bill Boyer to end Bob Hoover.

Ashville scored its first touchdown on a sneak by Boyer from two yards out in the closing minutes of the first quarter.

Halfback Dick Hoover turned in another good performance for the Broncos, picking up 110 yards on the ground and completing two passes. His 35-yard dash in the second quarter was the longest of the evening from scrimmage.

COACH Russ Gregg said he was well pleased with his team's showing, especially by the Broncos' fine comeback after trailing, 8-0, in the first quarter.

Coach Gregg remarked that the Broncos' pass defense appeared much improved over that of the opening game loss to Mt. Sterling. The Broncos also displayed a potent passing attack of their own last night, completing nine of 14. Boyer tossed five of the completions, Hoover two and Hollenback one.

In the first down department Ashville racked up 14 compared to eight for McArthur. McArthur early attack was paced by the hard-hitting of halfback Sam Meeks. However, the Broncos managed to collar the breakaway runner as the game progressed.

Next week the Broncos travel to Madison South for a Darby Valley contest.

Low Burdette, Milwaukee's No. 1 righthander, looks rarin' to go in next week's World Series against the New York Yankees — and therein lies a story.

The last time the Braves took a shot at the world championship they played the Cleveland Indians with their pitching hopes pinned on Johnny Sain and Warren Spahn.

Now, nine years after their failure, they have another crack at the title, this time against the Yankees, and this time with Spahn and Burdette — the guy the Yankees didn't want and packed off to the Braves along with $50,000 cash in a swap for Sain in 1951.

The 30-year old righthander looked ready Friday night, gaining a 17-9 record with a neat four-hitter in defeating Cincinnati 2-1. He struck out four, walked but two while defeating the Redlegs for the fifth time this season. Walby Post's 20th homer junked his shutout bid in the seventh, but home runs by Andy Pafko and Del Crandall had given Burdette the bulge he needed in the fifth off rookie Charley Rabe.

The Yankees readied for the series with a 10-2 breeze at Boston as Bob Turley won his 13th while allowing only two hits in a seven-inning warmup. He struck out eight, walked four and gave up a run on Billy Conso's homer.

The Yankees made it easy for the fast-balling righthander, building a 10-1 lead within six frames with Harry Simpson driving in four runs on a triple and double.

Neither Mickey Mantle nor Bill Skowron, out with injuries made the trip to Boston.

In the other National League games Friday night, the Chicago Cubs scored twice in the eighth, with rookie Eddie Haas' double the clincher, for a 3-2 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals; and rookie Jack Sanford won his 19th as the Philadelphia Phillies beat Brooklyn 3-2. The New York Giants and Pittsburgh were not scheduled.

In the American League, Chicago's White Sox defeated Cleveland 2-1, locking the Indians in the second division for the first time since 1946 and guarantee a first division berth for Detroit for the time since 1950. The Tigers were beaten 9-7 by Kansas City with Jim Bunning missing on his third try for a 20th victory. Baltimore belted Washington 7-3, although Roy Sievers socked his 42nd home run for the Senators, who now can't escape the cellar.

Sanford had a four-hit shutout for eight, then was busted for Sandy Amoros' two-run homer with two out in the ninth. Willie Jones' homer in the sixth wrapped it against rookie Bill Harris.

Brooklyn's Roy Campanella set a league record for catchers with his ninth consecutive season of 100 or more games. He had been tied with Al Lopez and Gabby Hartnett for the NL mark. Yankee Bill Dickey set the major league record with 13.

Hundred Proof Cops $50,000 Pace Test

WESTBURY, N. Y. (U.S.A.)—Hundred Proof packed the necessary wallop in the stretch Friday night and finished first in the $50,000 Transamerica Pace final at Roosevelt Raceway.

Hundred Proof, Springfield, Ill., paid $14.30, $9.50 and $6.30, while Ozark Chief, Maywood, Ill., returned $10.10 and $7.80 to place. Widower Creed, owned by Tom Loss of Swanton, Ohio, returned $6.20 to show.

Libby's Boy of Washington, Pa., finished fourth, while Belle Acton of Kittery, Me., and Steamin' Demon, owned by George W. an Camp, Circleville, Ohio, deadheaded for fifth. Irish of Massapequa, N. Y., was seventh, followed by Flaming Arrow of Waverly, Ohio, Bachelor Hanover, and Grand R. Volo.

Giardello Awaits His Shot at Title

CLEVELAND (U.S.A.)—It will be a year Sunday since Joey Giardello did a leaping victory dance at Cleveland's Arena while Bobby Boyn lay senseless on the canvas, his jaw broken.

Friday night, in the same arena, Giardello sat puffy-eyed in his dressing room after battering Bobby Lane of Miami to a technical knockout at 2:35 of the seventh round. And he admitted his chance at the middleweight crown is still some months away.

"Depends on what Carmen Basilio and Sugar Ray Robinson decide to do," said Giardello. "If they don't fight again, I figure I'm next in line for a title shot."

Legislators Study Ohio Racing Tax

COLUMBUS, Ohio (U.S.A.)—A committee studying horse racing laws for the legislature today focused attention on revenues from the state tax on pari-mutuel betting and the number of racing days allowed tracks.

Sen. Theodore M. Gray, (R-Miami), chairman of the Legislative Service Commission committee, called for a detailed report on those two phases of racing at the next meeting.

He said the committee also would look into complaints that the U.S. Trotting Assn. has monopolized business aspects of harness racing. The complaint said that harness tracks could not operate unless they were dues-paying members of the trotting association, and that no one would own or drive a horse at any track unless in good standing.

The complaints also asserted the state racing commission has left operation of harness racing mainly to the trotting association, while directing most of its attention to the regulation of running tracks.

The committee will report results of its studies to the commission for possible recommendations to the next legislature.

No date was set for the next meeting.

THE WORK BENCHES OF GOD

Christians are not turned out on assembly lines.

The skill and patience of many a human soul, the blueprint of Christ's own example, and the unseen but mighty craftsmanship of the Creator Himself—these over the decades bring forth a noble Christian life.

There must be understanding, guidance, faith. There must be a Christian home with sincere, loving parents. There must be prayer, the Bible, worship, thought, study. And at length practice and persistence must win many a victory over self before the world begins to recognize the hand of God in the life of a man.

Nearby in the church you will choose, there are busy hands at the work benches of God.

And room for more—your child's and your own!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

BRING A FRIEND TO CHURCH WITH YOU

Here's Briton Who Likes U.S.

So frequent have been the brickbats directed at the United States that it is surprisingly welcome to receive a bouquet. Such is an article by the English philosopher, Bertrand Russell, who received the Nobel Prize for literature in 1950.

Writing in New York Times Magazine, Lord Russell lists three reasons why a great many people in Britain have hostile emotions toward America. Summed up, it is because they think "Americans are oafs, too big, intolerant."

Russell outlines these reasons and then comments:

"For my part I regard the first two of the three grounds of hostility as totally unjustifiable, and the third (in view of increasing encroachments on freedom in Britain) as less well founded than many of my compatriots suppose."

Russell says "cultural and snobbish prejudice" in Britain against America "has existed ever since the United States became an independent country," adding, "I do not think that there is anything at all to be said for the British attitude of superiority toward American culture."

Well, it's dead game white of him to say that.

He explains the second attitude as resulting from British dismay at the dwindling of their empire and the ascendancy of America in world affairs. He concludes his article by saying, "America has become the torchbearer for the West and it is the duty of all of us to do what we can to keep the torch burning brightly."

Well, that's what Americans have been saying all along.

Adenauer Vote New Trend

Overwhelming victory of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer in the West German elections, which gives him a more firm hold on the government than he had before, was good news for the West and vice versa for Moscow. That the Russians, handed this stunning setback in their efforts to bore from within in West Germany, will now step up their attacks from without is probable.

The Bonn government and the West Germans are now more solidly aligned with the West than ever in the cold war. Moscow threatened atomic annihilation of the nation unless it veered from its alliance, and the German voters answered the threat in emphatic voice.

There is little doubt that the voters of East Germany and of the dozen other captive nations now rotting under Soviet rule would likewise turn against the Communists is given a free choice.

Road to Peace Bumpy, Unpaved By George Sokolsky

If the road to hell is paved with good intentions, the road to peace is surely long, winding, bumpy and altogether unpaved. Beginning with the Peace of Westphalia in 1648—if that can be regarded as a beginning—Europe has sought a way to peace and has not found it.

Wars are made for many reasons or for no reasons at all and at their end, the world is full of good intentions, but it is only too often like an alcoholic's promise never to go on a bender again. Something always happens and it is always the other fellow who makes it happen. Most wars, particularly in modern times, are proclaimed to be defensive on both sides.

By the Peace of Westphalia (1648), for instance, it was contracted that all existing fortifications were to be demolished. But none were demolished and new ones were erected. So by the Treaty of Utrecht in 1713, it was agreed by England and France to demolish the fortifications at Dunkirk and in 1715, England and Spain agreed to demolish those at Liege.

These were sign-posts on the road to peace. But the really important task always has been to place some limitation on armaments. In 1766, Prince Kaunitz, Austrian Chancellor, proposed to Frederick the Great of Prussia that each country reduce its arms by three-quarters. Prussia was then emerging as a first rate power, contesting Austria's claim to authority in the Germanic world. Frederick was building an empire; the Hapsburgs were sensing that their day was done. So Frederick declined the proposal and built a force which eventually under Bismarck, Kaiser Wilhelm and Hitler sought to master Europe and then the world.

The Congress of Vienna was called to establish a peace for Europe after the defeat of Napoleon. Europe had gone through a hellish period during the French Revolution and the Napoleonic conquests. At Vienna, men of strength and character, perhaps the finest collection of European intellects, were assembled. Their business was peace. Their habit was intrigue for advantage. Czar Alexander of Russia proposed that all countries reduce their forces of all kinds. Nothing came of the proposal except that the number of occupying troops in France were reduced.

That did not really matter. The troops that occupied France would sooner or later all be withdrawn and France itself would become one of the principal military nations. In fact, whereas Great Britain henceforth proposed the reduction of armaments, France generally opposed the idea because France feared the rising power of Prussia and then Germany, and perhaps the fear provoked three mighty wars, those of 1870, 1914 and 1939, wars which, in time, destroyed the peace of the world, weakened the 2,000-year-old civilization of Western Europe, opened the roads into Europe from Asia and Africa and promoted the United States and Soviet Russia to the roles of the principal powers.

In 1899, the Czar of Russia proposed that an international conference be held at The Hague in Holland to consider the reduction of armaments. This was undoubtedly the most notable step forward in human history. At The Hague, a principle of voluntary arbitration was accepted. A Court of International Justice was established which continued under the League of Nations and the United Nations.

The Hague Convention was European in attitude, and in that sense, it may have been sounder than the Covenant of the League of Nations or the Charter of the United Nations, for as events continue to occur, it becomes increasingly clear that the sociological principle of community of kind persists among nations as among men and that therefore the world divides itself into groups of nations closely related by religion, history, tradition or language.

Thus, the NATO powers, with the exception of Turkey, are Christian countries, while the Moslem group of nations in Asia and Africa stand together despite their many differences. In fact, both groups would perhaps fall apart were it not for the enormous pressure upon them by the atheistic, materialistic nations joined in the Soviet Universal State.

It is this pressure, of a political glacier, which is affecting the entire world in this generation and forcing upon it preparation for a war of such magnitude that it could, if men do not find a road to peace, destroy the human race.

LAFF-A-DAY

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

ONE OF ARTURO TOSCANINI's favorite stories about himself concerned the day on tour when a neat, rosy-cheeked young chambermaid caught his fatherly fancy. Pulling a pair of tickets out of his pocket, the Maestro said gaily, "Tell me, my dear, how would you like to go to the concert tomorrow night?" The maid continued dusting for a moment, then inquired, "Is that the only night you get off?"

No Remedy for All Ills

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

Once upon a time there was a donkey.

Each day this donkey was loaded with merchandise of one sort or another and forced to carry it from one town to the next. It so happened that he had to cross a stream midway between the two towns during each daily trip.

One day, as he was transporting a load of salt, the donkey accidentally slipped while crossing the stream and fell into the cool water.

Since it was a hot day, he lay there for a few minutes enjoying the comfortable coolness until his master prodded him into action again.

As he rested in the stream, the water dissolved a good portion of the salt he was carrying. Therefore, and much to his surprise his load was considerably lighter when he arose.

On the return trip the following day, the donkey had an idea.

He purposely fell in midstream. But when he rose he found his burden was much heavier. This time, you see, he was carrying a load of sponges. His burden soon became too much for him and he collapsed and died.

There's a moral to this fable, of course. And it's a moral all of you should respect:

The same remedy does not apply to all cases of sickness.

Once you get a prescription from your physician, many of you use the medicine for other ailments as they occur. Or you pass it on to a friend with the advice: "Try it; it cured me."

No single drug, or even combination of drugs, is a cure-all. There is a specific remedy for most of our common illnesses, fortunately, but, in most cases, a different drug is required for each.

Let me make this suggestion: When a prescribed medicine has

Law Ike Cited To Use Troops Dates Back to Early Republic

WASHINGTON (AP) — The law President Eisenhower cited when he ordered troops to Little Rock has a long history, twining back through Civil War and Reconstruction to the earliest years of the republic.

When Eisenhower federalized the Arkansas National Guard and authorized use of federal troops to halt willful obstruction of the U.S. Supreme court's school integration order, he said he was acting under the powers granted him by the constitution and statutes.

Sections of the U.S. 1956 Code are taken almost word for word from a law Congress enacted in July 1861, a week after the first battle of Bull Run.

Another section cited by Eisenhower is the remnant of a drastic law Congress enacted in 1871 with the avowed purpose of fighting the Ku Klux Klan in the South.

Only a remnant survives in the present code—the Supreme Court in 1982 declared unconstitutional some of the most stringent provisions of the law.

The codifiers who rearranged the federal statutes last year included the troop provisions of the 1871 act, along with the older enactment, in the chapter on insurrections.

The President is authorized under it to use state or federal forces against any insurrection, unlawful combination or conspiracy which hinders execution of state or federal laws within a state in such a way that:

"Any part or class of its people is deprived of a right, privilege, immunity or protection named in the Constitution and secured by law, and the constituted authority of that state are unable, fail or refuse to protect that right, privilege, or immunity, or to give that protection."

The President also may use troops against an illegal assembly that "opposes or obstructs the execution of the laws of the United States or impedes the course of justice under those laws."

The original law was enacted April 19, 1871, after a special congressional investigating committee had reported that secret organizations committed murder or other acts of violence in the South, especially in North Carolina. This report was attacked as exaggerated by minority members of the committee and other Democrats in Congress.

Rep. Samuel Shellabarger (R-Ohio) sponsored the bill. It was handed in the Senate by Sen. George Franklin Edmunds (R-Vt.). The House passed the measure April 6, 1871, by a vote of 118-91, with 13 not voting. The Senate amended it and passed it April 14, 45-19, with six not voting.

Conferees worked out a compromise which was adopted by the House April 19 by a 93-74 vote with 63 not voting. The Senate adopted it the same day, 36-13, with 21 not voting.

President U. S. Grant used the law only once—in the fall of 1871 when nine South Carolina counties were proclaimed to be in rebellion and a detachment of federal troops arrested hundreds of persons.

Ike's '52 Little Rock Talk Recalled

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower told a 1952 campaign audience in Little Rock that unless group problems are approached in a spirit of cooperation, a creeping tide of central law will result in an all-powerful state.

Eisenhower chose Little Rock, where federal troops now are enforcing the Supreme Court's anti-segregation decision, for one of his earliest references to the civil rights issue in his first campaign for the White House.

Speaking in the Arkansas capital Sept. 3, 1953, Eisenhower said the founding fathers made no mention of the color of a man's skin. He noted, too, the concept in the Declaration of Independence of the equality of man.

1814 Ohio Chief's Grave Said Unmarked

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Secretary of State Ted W. Brown today referred to the Ohio Historical Society a letter from the Lions Club of Palestine, Ill., stating that the grave of one of Ohio's early governors is unmarked.

The letter from E. Earl Allen said:

"I know it will seem strange to you to receive a letter from an Illinois resident about a person who has played a part in the history of our country and your great state. That person was Othnel Looker, a revolutionary war soldier and one-time governor of the state of Ohio."

"The Hon. Mr. Looker is buried in a small, poorly attended cemetery in Palestine, Ill. For several years I have been interested in trying to get this grave properly marked with a suitable stone. Our club has always been interested in the preservation of this spot, but has lacked funds to properly take care of it."

Looker served in the Ohio Senate from Hamilton County and became acting governor when Gov. Return John Jonathan Meigs resigned to become U.S. Postmaster General.

He served in the governor's office from March 24 to Dec. 8, 1814.

Mormon Church's Parley Called Off

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—The Latter-Day Saints (Mormon) Church Friday called off its semi-annual conference Oct. 4-6, because of the Asian flu epidemic.

It was the first time the meeting of thousands of Mormons from around the nation and many foreign countries had been called off since 1950.

Church President David O. McKay announced the cancellation after talking with officials of the Utah State Health Department who expect the epidemic in this area to hit a peak late next week.

FBI Chief Reports Faubus Tells Fib

WASHINGTON (AP)—FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover says Gov. Orval Faubus of Arkansas indulged in a falsehood in accusing the FBI of holding teenagers in Little Rock questioning.

The governor, in a television address to the nation Thursday night, said "teen-aged girls have been taken by the FBI and held incommunicado for hours of questioning while their frantic parents knew nothing of their whereabouts."

Hoover said "No teen-ager or anyone else has been held incommunicado by the FBI for hours of questioning."

Little Rock Negro School Only Year Old

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—While nine Negro students attend Central High School under protection of federal troops, 700 other Negroes go to classes in a modern brick and metal building about three miles distant.

The physical structure of Horace Mann High School is as sound and attractive as $925,000 could make it in April 1956.

A regular tax levy on real and personal property raised the funds, Supt. Virgil Blossom says. The one-story building was opened a year ago.

The school principal is L. M. Christophe, a stocky, light-skinned Negro who received his bachelor degree from Talladega College in Alabama, his master's degree from the University of Chicago and his doctorate from New York University.

He has been with the Little Rock public schools 30 years.

The school district in which the buildings are located is about 42 per cent white and 58 per cent Negro.

A Negro close to the situation was asked by a newsman why the nine Negro students would want to transfer from an attractive new school like Horace Mann to the massive, 30-year-old Central High School.

"That isn't really the point," the Negro replied. "We should have the right to do it."

Dr. Wyatt Aiken Smart To Be Conference Speaker

A three-day Bible Conference will be held at Trinity Methodist Church in Chillicothe for youth and adults from the Methodist Churches of Ross, Pickaway and Madison Counties, Dr. Wyatt Aiken Smart of Atlanta, Ga., who is professor of New Testament at Emory University will be the lecturer. His theme will be "The Bible in Modern Civilization."

This series of three evening meetings will be of interest to church-school teachers, adults and youth, and is open to the public.

Dr. Smart received his education at Vanderbilt University, Union Theological Seminary and the University of Chicago. In 1940 he delivered the Lyman Beecher Lectures at Yale University and in 1942 the Founders Lectures at Southern Methodist University.

He is a noted author and two of his latest books are "The Spiritual Gospel" and "Still the Bible Speaks." He seeks to point out the place our Bible holds in contemporary life, giving the historical message its proper setting.

Two hundred adults are expected from the churches of these three counties at Trinity Methodist Church, Chillicothe, said Mr. Baker, the host pastor, and ministers are arranging car pools so all interested adults and teachers may attend. Rev. John Klein of Mt. Sterling will be the discussion leader.

The Bible Conference will be held Sunday, Monday and Tuesday Sept. 29-30 and Oct. 1st at 7:30 p. m. in Chillicothe.

Ohio Market Hogs Dip $1.05 in Price

COLUMBUS (AP)—Prices paid for market hogs averaged $1.05 per 100 pounds lower than last week at $1.75, the Ohio Department of Agriculture reports.

Monday's opening price of $18.25 was 25 cents lower than last week's close. Tuesday's poor demand was reflected in a general 75 per cent 100 pounds decline over the entire state. Wednesday prices were steady at $17.50 to $17.75, while Thursday was steady to 25 cents higher at mostly $17.75. Friday's price and close was mostly steady with Thursday at $17.75.

Ohio Turnpike Said Better Designed Than Pennsy Road

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Ohio Turnpike was described by a roads expert here recently as safer and better designed than the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

Deputy Assistant Commissioner Joseph Barnett of the Bureau of Public Roads said he means nothing against the designers of the Pennsylvania turnpike.

"After all," he said in response to a reporter's question, "the Pennsylvania turnpike was built more than 20 years ago. If we can't learn anything about road construction in that time we had better stop."

Actually, he said, Pennsylvania turnpike designers did a good job, considering that it was built during the depression. He said they showed particular boldness in laying parts of the turnpike through mountain tunnels.

What especially makes the new Ohio turnpike superior to Pennsylvania, he said, is that the dividing portion between the one-way roads varies in width. This section is called the median.

"On the Pennsylvania turnpike you have a 10 foot median all the way," he said, "the Ohio turnpike median is never that narrow. Sometimes it is 24 or 30 feet. Sometimes it is more than 100 feet."

"A varying wider median is much safer, since there is less chance of an automobile going into the other road. Pennsylvania patrolmen have erected barriers at some of the more dangerous places. The varying median is also much less monotonous."

Senate Probe Aide Pulls Gun in Fuss

WASHINGTON (AP)—A staff investigator for the Senate Rackets Committee, Arthur Kaplan, is accused of having drawn a gun in a stormy interview with Harry Newman, an agent for Teamsters Local 983 in Detroit.

William Bufalino, president of the local, called the incident "Gestapo tactics" and told the committee he objects to any of its agents "trying to get information at gun point."

Chairman McClellan (D - Ark) promised to investigate. But he told Bufalino he believes the investigators are dealing with persons whom "it isn't safe to be around . . . when investigating their crooked affairs."

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Philadelphia Orchestra opened its 58th season Friday with a tribute to Jean Sibelius, Finnish composer who died last week at 92.

Eugene Ormandy opened the season in the newly refurbished 100-year-old Academy of Music with the playing of Sibelius' "fatefully mystic and haunting" "The Swan of Tuonela."
